Agricultural Productivity Enhancement Program (APEP)	The Uganda Agricultural Productivity Enhancement Program (APEP) aims to expand rural economic opportunities and increase household income by increasing food and cash crop productivity and marketing for targeted commodities. The program focuses on sub-sectors that impact a large number of beneficiaries, more specifically cotton, grains, oilseeds, flowers, spices (vanilla and cardamom), and cooking bananas. During the second year of the project, the program met all of its annual results targets. The number of households supported by APEP increased from 165,000 to 204,603, well over the year two target of 180,000 households. The average household income among these households increased by 21, surpassing the year two target of 20. The number of farm enterprises created increased from 311 to 495, exceeding the year two target of 400 enterprises. Finally, the number of farm jobs created increased from 13,347 to 30,219, also exceeding its target of 30,000 jobs. Funded and implemented by USAID/Uganda.	Trade-Related Agriculture	2,678,866

Uganda Private Sector Dairy Industry Development Program	Private and non-governmental groups are assisting Ugandan dairy farmers and producer groups realize increased levels of milk production and animal productivity. This is accomplished through the adoption of improved animal genetics and farm management practices that lead to increased household incomes. The activity aims to increase dairy sector competitiveness and productivity, and to ensure the adoption of key skills and best practices. Over the past fiscal year, the activity has helped increase consumption of processed milk by 11 percent, from 25.3 million liters to 28 million liters, on-farm milk production has increased by 5.6 percent, and milk entering the cold storage chain has increased from 95,000 liters per day to 110,000 liters per day. The program also helps processors obtain quality standard certifications. As a result of the interventions, dairy-related annual income for participating farmers has increased from an average of $738 to $811. Funded and implemented by USAID/Uganda.
