Norman E. Borlaug International Agricultural Science and Technology Fellowship Program	The Borlaug Fellowship Program helps developing and middle-income countries strengthen their agricultural trade and scientific capacity by providing short-term scientific training and collaborative research programs to entry-level scientists, policymakers and university faculty. The program helps build capacity and market access for sustainable and competitive agricultural sectors by promoting the adoption of sound regulatory and food safety policies and new technologies. Cameroon Description for 2008: The Borlaug Fellows Program helps Cameroon strengthen its agricultural trade and scientific capacity by providing short-term scientific training and research programs for Cameroonian scientists, policymakers, government officials and university faculty in collaboration with select U.S. land grant colleges and universities. The program helps to promote the adoption of new technologies, improved agricultural health and sound regulatory and food safety policies.	Trade-Related Agriculture		60,001
