Norman E. Borlaug International Agricultural Science and Technology Fellowship Program	The Borlaug Fellowship Program helps developing and middle-income countries strengthen their agricultural trade and scientific capacity by providing short-term scientific training and collaborative research programs to entry-level scientists, policymakers and university faculty. The program helps build capacity and market access for sustainable and competitive agricultural sectors by promoting the adoption of sound regulatory and food safety policies and new technologies. Poland Description for 2008: This program is providing Polish agricultural research scientists, faculty and policymakers with short-term, one-on-one training opportunities focusing on biotechnology. The aim is to facilitate the transfer of new science and agricultural technologies to strengthen agricultural practices, and address obstacles to the adoption of technology such as ineffectual policies and regulations.
